Document A

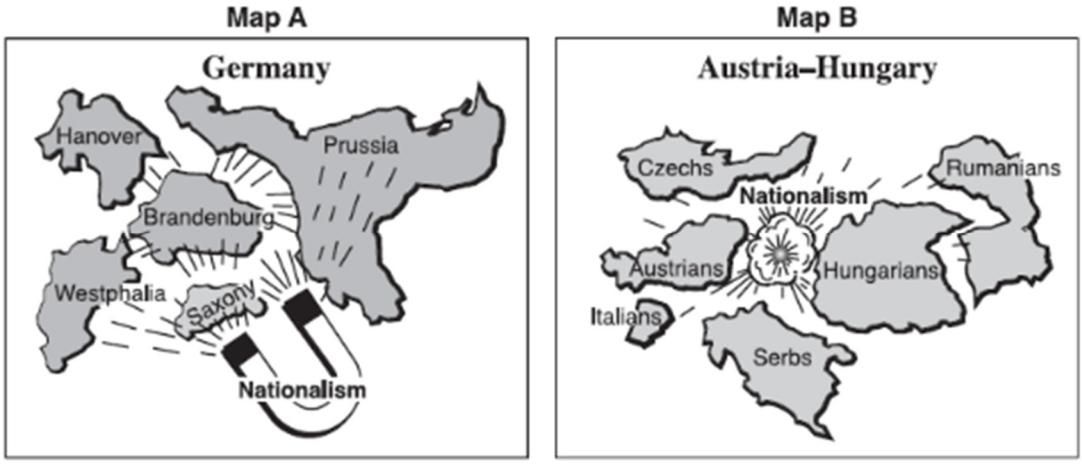

In this speech by Count Camillo di Cavour, a disunified Italy was the problem but not a solution to the political climate of Europe.

> "We ardently wish to free Italy from foreign rule. We agree that we must put aside all petty differences in order to gain this most important goal. We wish to drive out the foreigners not only because we want to see our country powerful and glorious, but because we want to elevate the Italian people in intelligence and moral development."

–Count Canifflo di Cavor, 1810-1861
